The DIMMER VIEW

Need For GOP Reorganization

The San Diego Republican organization is in shambles.

The various reasons for this sorry situation have been reviewed in these columns several times.

For years the Grand Old Party held sway hereabouts. "Almost invincible" would be an apt description until now.

Local leaders have been reluctant to make changes at upper eschelons. Why should they? The only Democrats who have won political office did so because they acted like Republicans. Invincibility is no longer a Republican standard.

Most races in the November election were closer than they ought to be. And it appears that even that gap will continue to narrow down.

Through the halcyon years Republicans used easily available campaign funds as a political lever. Now they cannot. The money will not be there. Banker Arnholt Smith, who could be depended upon to aid all Republican causes is not likely to provide funds in the future because of his current financial difficulties.

Good, grey Leslie E. Gehres, chairman of the County Republican Central committee for the past dozen years, kept a tight grip on Republican activities. He grew older. Party functionaries grew older. The local Party acquired a touch of senility.

Then Gehres wisely announced earlier this month that he will not seek the county chairmanship again in January when his term expires. He, too, sees the need for a new vitality that can be brought back to the party only by younger people — people with imagination and energy. A good example of that need was expressed in the surprising closeness of veteran Bob Wilson's congressional race in which a slip of a girl, Democrat Colleen O'Connor, after only a year of organizing and campaigning, garnered 43 per cent of the vote. She says she's going to run against Wilson again in 1976. She says she'll beat him next time. Unless the local organization comes alive, she will keep her promise.

O'Connor's race had the elements of youth and youthful vitality. It seemed to promise voters something new; some thing better. It also warned Republicans that revitalization was an important ingredient that must be a part of their future effort.

This warning grows all the more important in light of the new political federal campaign financing regulations that become effective next year. It strictly controls the funds that can be spent by candidates for president, senate and representative.

More simply put, local politicians are going to have to furnish their own leadership in the future. That means any central committee and any candidate coming under its support must be ready to put man-power and ingenuity in the vacuum where their money formerly did the trick.

Major provisions include these:

■ Federal subsidies would be provided for Presidential candidates but not for House or Senate contestants. Federal money for the Presidential races would come through the checkoff on income tax returns.

■ Contestants for the House would be limited to $70,000 spending in their primary campaigns, and another $70,000 in the races. However, fund-raising costs could be as much as 20 percent of the spending limit, thus increasing the House ceiling to $84,000.

■ Contestants for the Senate would be limited to $100,000 or 8 cents per eligible voter, whichever is greater, in primary contests, and $150,000 or 12 cents per eligible voter, whichever is greater, for the election contests.

■ Where a House member represents an entire State, as in Vermont, ceilings as for the Senate only apply.

■ The limitations on media spending set by the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 are repealed.

■ Candidates for the Presidency could spend no more than $10 million each in all primaries, and no more that $20 million each in the general election.

■ An individual donor to a campaign could give no more than $1,000 in each primary, runoff and general election, and no more than $25,000 to all candidates for Federal office within a year.

■ Candidates and their families could give no more than the following to their own races: for the Presidency, $50,000; for the Senate, $35,000; for House seats, $25,000. (No change; the same ceilings were contained in the 1971 act.)

■ An eight-member, bipartisan Federal Elections Commission will be formed to administer election laws and the public financing provisions.

■ New requirements for reporting contributions and expenditures are laid down. A candidate failing to file reports could be prohibited from running again for the term of that office plus one year.

■ Fines can go up as high as $50,000.

■ No elected or appointed official or employee of the Federal Government could receive more than $1,000 as an honorarium for speech or article, or $15,000 in total in a year.

■ Though the general effective date is Jan. 1, 1975, a section of the bill that preempts State campaign laws insofar as they pertain to Federal candidates became effective upon signature of the measure by the President.

■ Organizations spending money or committing acts to influence any election will have to file reports as a political committee. This is expected to affect Common Cause and other groups.

■ Foreign contributions are barred, as are contributions in cash of more than $100.

■ Government contractors, as well as other corporations and labor unions, may maintain separate, segregated funds for political purpose.

Kangaroo Skin Boots Sale Brings Arrest of L.G. Man

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The manager of a Lemon Grove store selling western clothes was arrested Monday and charged with selling boots made of skins from animals on the endangered species list —a misdemeanor.

Fred Nobbs, manager of H-Bar-R Western Outfitters, 7473 Broadway, was booked in the county jail and released on $250 bail.

Edwin L. Miller, district attorney, said the complaint was first made by the wild life committee of the Sierra Club. An investigator from Miller's fraud division reportedly purchased boots labeled "Kangaroo .... Hand Lasted,"

L.G. Girl Dies in Weekend Accident

Valerie Kesel, 18, of 3773 King ave., Lemon Grove, died in Paradise Valley Hospital from injuries suffered when a truck in which she was riding drove over an embankment.

The driver of the pickup truck, David Meyer, 24, of 7268 Waite dr., Lemon Grove, was not injured. A third passenger, Carlos Camacho, 22, of 3744 Nassau dr., San Diego, was taken to Paradise Valley Hospital and was listed in fair condition.

The truck was heading south on Grand avenue near Jamacha rd. when the accident occurred, according to CHP officials.

L.G. Guest Home To Be Expanded

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The Skyline Terrace Guest House in Lemon Grove will be expanded by the addition of a 252-bed 2-story frame building.

A special use permit was issued to Gary L. Miller of 2045 Skyline dr., for the new facility. The existing rest home has a capacity of 108 beds, and comprises 4.71 acres.

The proposed addition was judged compatible with the goals of the Lemon Grove Community Plan, to fulfill part of the need for health care for Lemon Grove's elderly and infirm.

Integrated Planning Organization Proposed

Brown Calls For Planning Revamp

They may bring order out of county planning chaos after all!

San Diego's Second District County Supervisor Dick Brown has devised a plan that should give a sense of direction — and for the first time, a sense of possibility to the various planning functions over which the County Board of Supervisors ride herd.

Brown has labeled his brainchild Integrated Planning Office IPO). It will be a new planning unit made by combining scattered planning functions within the existing structure of county government into one office.

IPO would be staffed by 100 — a half-dozen more than already employed by the units IPO would absorb.

An immediate by-product of such an office would be the elimination of confusion which exists now when a citizen, a developer, a government official, or even a planning element representative needs planning information on a project.

Another by-product might be, for the first time, county government knowing what it is doing about long-range planning.

With all sections of IPO coordinated, it would eliminate the hodge-podge arrangement that has some departments giving rulings contrary to the rulings of others. It would also eliminate duplicated effort.

Brown said that the county has no successful process for integrating factors involved in preparing ongoing land use plans. These include natural resources, transportation, public services and environmental protection.

Planning Just Grew

Most planning which has occurred has been planning in spite of itself rather than by design, Brown said.

But it will take a major reorganization of both structure and thinking within the county to start an integrated planning approach because county's jurisdiction is limited in planning spheres to the unincorporated area.

County decisions may be modified, pre-empted and even canceled by other Federal, State and local levels of government, Brown acknowledged.

There are more than 200 special purpose local districts as well as various agencies and authorities at all levels which must be considered in planning efforts.

The county should parlay its efforts compatibly with other levels of authority rather than being an antagonist, Brown said.

San Diego's growth is inevitable and the business of planning should be the immediate concern. Rhetorical debate between "growth" and "no-growth" is wasting precious time, he said.

Brown ticked off five sections he said IPO would use to bring the entire county development program into a fully co-ordinated and co-operative office.

Five Elements

IPO, will be studied by the Board of Supervisors when it is presented to them at a discussion set for January 21, and will contain these elements:

1. Land Use Section — It would develop long-range plans for all land in the County. The present Planning Department would handle administrative details only.

2. Transportation Section — Co-ordinated with land use, transportation could be planned far in advance, rather than making the routes fit after development of areas.

3. Sanitation and Flood Section — Sewer lines, for examples, could be planned long in advance of development because IPO would know where the development would come. There would be less patchwork systems.

4. Section of Environmental Management — Under this section, in collaboration with the other sections, water, air and noise pollution and energy conservation controls could be made meaningful.

5. Public Facilities and Capital Budgeting Section would develop an ongoing planning philosophy. This would help eliminate traumatic crises which sometime come to the Supervisors with dramatic suddeness.

No Programs Now

There are no long-range programs now in existence in Public Facilities and Capital Budgeting nor in Sanitation and Flood Control Brown said.

Simply put, Brown said, IPO would focus on systems-level planning — programs that look far into the future and co-ordinate all of the planning into one well co-ordinated office.

He envisions far-sighted programs into which all public service and development patterns will be visible — visible not only among members of the various sections but to officials and the public as well.

This, Brown said, would save taxpayers' dollars in terms of financing capital improvements. It would aid private enterprise by providing vital zoning, environmental and service projections.

It may even convince the public that one element of county government knows what the other is doing.

On that basis alone, the program is worthy of sincere consideration.

106 Names on Ballot for Valle de Oro Planning

When the County Planning Department called for an election in the Valley de Oro Community Plan area, little did they know that they would come up with 106 candidates.

That's how many candidates had turned in a statement of qualifications (of 50 words) by the November 15 deadline.

Out of the 106, 25 will be elected to serve on the executive committee at an election on December 17, 12-8 p.m. in the recreation room of the Lamplighter Mobile Home Park, 10767 Jamacha blvd.

Both registration and election will be held at that time.

Any resident, property owner or business person may vote.

Still Time for Clubs

Groups, clubs or organizations wanting to serve on the executive committee have until December 7th 5 p.m. to get on the ballot. Applications should be submitted to Valle de Oro Community Planning Program c/o San Diego County Planning Department, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, CA 92101. Specifics may be obtained by phone from Carl Stephani at 236-2181.

The Valle de Oro Planning area consists of about 50,000 persons. The elected committee will work with County staff to develop a community plan. Those who have volunteered to have their names on the ballot include:

Roy Ahrensberg, Robert Akins, Sr., Mrs. Howard Allen (Harriet), Richard Anton, Harry Ardaiz, James Baker, James Bartels, Mrs. Zeke Brandt.

Charles Buckles, Robert Burdette, Jr., Emil Caldwell, Arthur Canfield, Robert Cerasoli,

S.V. Owners OK Anti-Flood Petition Move

A turn-away audience of more than 60 Spring Valley residents, still angry about a flood control ordinance that would prohibit development of their property, continued their fight at the second in a series of ongoing meetings Tuesday night.

The group ordered their newly elected chairman, C. E. Roye, to officially call it Flood Action Group (FAG) and to prepare petitions asking for a 6 months delay in the flood overlay ordinance planned by the County Board of Supervisors.

Because of the limited capacity of Goodland Acres Meeting Hall, the meeting next Tuesday at 7 p.m. will be the last one there. At that meeting the new location will be announced. It probably will be the auditorium of the Bancroft school.

The flood overlay ordinance, when passed, will affect property owners along the Spring Valley Creek which runs from Brookside south to Sweetwater Lake.

Crisis Care Center To Open in Lemon Grove

A Lemon Grove dentist is helping to make a local human care service facility available here.

The dentist, Dr. Peter Shea, one of the town's first dentists, has offered a house he owns at 3270 Main st. for the purpose.

What's more, he'll let it be used six months rent free, he said.

The house would become a center for counseling and referral services for local residents. It would be manned by volunteers. In addition to counseling, the center would advise those who need help, where to turn to get it.

Fred Anderson, a Lemon Grove resident who heads a group he calls the Lemon Grove Advisory Committee, will meet with various social service organizations Monday night at 7:30 to seek additional volunteer aid, he said. Dr. Shea is also a member of the Committee. The meeting will be in the Main st. house. Any who can contribute anything to the project is invited to attend.

Dr. Herb Chevront, a psychologist who is also executive director of El Cajon's Crisis House, will moderate the meeting Monday night.

Cheuvront, who brought the Crisis House into a successfully functional counseling center, said that his group would give information and lend leadership based on five years experience in El Cajon.

"We'll offer ideas and answers and they'll have to organize," Cheuvront said. "We now have 100 volunteers. The list includes attorneys, psychiatrists, medical doctors, marriage counselors and other professionals needed to handle any problem that may arise in the community."

"There is a need for a crisis intervention center in Lemon Grove," Shea said. "The fact that it is local gives comfort to people who are faced with a crisis. They would much rather deal with people in their home town than as strangers somewhere else.

"We particularly urge church groups to take part in the development of the center. It could ease the burden they now carry."

The center would supply emergency food — enough to tide needy victims over until county food stamps can get

Spring Valley Man Charged With Opiate Use

Police arrested Robert Isaac Snyder, 28, at 1080 Gillespie dr., Spring Valley about 4 a.m. Sunday when someone reported that a man was staggering about the Gillespie dr. area.

Police found three hypodermic needles, a syringe and a metal spoon on him and charged him with possession of narcotics paraphrenalia.

They also charged him with being under the influence of an opiate and police say he admitted to having "just had a $12 shot of heroin."

He will appear in El Cajon Municipal Court for arraignment.

Quick Detective Work Recovers $5,000 in Jewels

The home of Walter S. Jordan, of 10337 Elmdale dr., Spring Valley, was burglarized last Thursday of almost $10,000 in jewelry and other valuables—but quick work on the part of sheriff's deputies Charles Larson and David Stafford had all of the loot back before the day was over.

In the process they apprehended three Spring Valley juveniles who had already started distributing their newly acquired wealth. The boys were 15, 15 and 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan left their home at 8 a.m. and returned at 9:30 a.m. Missing was a 2 carat diamond ring; a 2-carat diamond pendant; a diamond solitaire ring and various other items.

The boys helped themselves to some beer. The pitcher used was still cold.

The youngsters after they were caught said they went to the hilltop near the house to watch for the cops to come following the burglary. Later, they took a bus to try to sell some of the items.

After the youth were rounded up and confessed to the theft they led the detectives to the people to whom they had given or sold some of the items.

The diamond pendant, valued at $5,000 was chucked into a drawer at one of the homes because it was thought to be worthless.

Detectives Larson and Stafford found all of the valuables except a Buck knife valued at about $5.

Gas Station Loot is $86

Two Negro males, each about 20 years of age and weighing about 160 pounds, relieved Wade M. Quinn, 19, of $86 at 10:40 Friday night.

The pair came into Thrifty Gas, at 2717 Palm st., Lemon Grove and asked for a gallon can of gasoline. Quinn had no gallon cans so he filled four empty oil cans for them. One robber had a chrome plated revolver; the other a knife. They took the money, which belonged to the station, from Quinn's pocket and ordered Quinn to "start running and don't look back." When he did look, the two were gone. Quinn lives at 7814 Palm st.

Gibralter to Open Shop Here

Gibraltar Savings, a $1.6 billion statewide savings and loan association, is entering the San Diego County market with multiple office openings —the first two of which will open in December.

The announcement was made Monday night at a press conference at the Cuyamaca club in San Diego.

Gibraltar will open the first of two east county offices early next month in La Mesa at 8349 Hercules st. in the Akron shopping center near Handyman. The other east county office will be in Lemon Grove.

Later in December another will open in the Mira Mesa Shopping Center.

About the same time ground will be broken in National City for an office in the S. Bay Shopping Center.

The office in Lemon Grove is scheduled for ground-breaking in January although the exact site is still indefinite.

The San Diego market is important enough to Gibraltar that management concentrated a number of its branch applications in San Diego County. "With the four geographical locations here, we can effectively and efficiently service potential customers," Young said.

Already Active Here

"Our interest has not just come into play with these new branches," Young said, "for we have been very active in our lending operation even without an office located here. Gibraltar presently has $46 million in loans in San Diego County."

Gibraltar has made a total of 1326 loans (1204 conventional — 122 FHA-VA loans) covering both multi - housing projects and single family residences. The average loan balance amounts to $34,600; although in actuality some were projects in the million dollar category.

In a question and answer period following his remarks, Young told media people that Gibraltar's lending activities activities in San Diego County would increase employment here. He expressed optimism about the economy, barring unpredictables, and predicted that the prime rate will continue to go down.

Gibraltar Savings operates 47 offices statewide. It is the seventh largest of the nation's 5,200 savings and loan associations.

On Saturday, a Lemon Grove man, Michael Allen Mott, 19, of 3320 Central ave., told deputies that he had paid $10 for 13 grams of marijuana they found in his possession when they stopped him at 5:30 p.m. to tell him his license plate light was out.

A 17-year old companion in the car with him was not charged.

Sunday

On Sunday, police arrested Andy Ivan Anderson, 19, of 8080 Golden ave., Lemon Grove while they were investigating a report of a fight near the Lemon Grove Mayfair Market. Woman Shopper Strong-Armed

A Negro male, about 18, grabbed the shoulder purse of Beulah Cox, 60 of 9231 Brookside circle, as she was walking toward the Casa de Oro business community on the north side of Campo rd. to do some shopping.

He ordered, "Give it to me."

When she resisted, he hit her on the jaw with his fist, knocking her to the ground. He fled. A witness followed him on a bicycle but he ran between some buildings and disappeared.

While police took her to the hospital from which she was almost immediately released, the Campo - Conrad Bank of America reported that an attempt was made to draw $800 from her savings account with a forged check and her savings bank book.

In the process, police got a pretty good description of the youth.

Money Helps Build Center

St. John's Nets $7400

The hustle and bustle of Festival time is over for members of St. John of the Cross Catholic Church in Lemon Grove. November 9 and 10 saw the fruition of months of planning as several congregational groups sponsored their 2nd annual Fall Festival.

John Stenbeck, one of the chairmen of the event was pleased with the results. Over 1000 people joined the celebration during the two days and close to $7400 was raised.

Grand Prize raffle winners Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sutton walked off with their choice between $500 or a custom-built Flivver, a miniature Model-T. The Suttons chose the cash.

St. John's will now direct its efforts toward the construction and furnishing of the Parish Social Center. The money raised at the Festival will contribute to the purchase of 400 chairs and accompanying tables.

The Center is expected to be completed in February. S.T.

United Way/CHAD Gets Church Boost

Formation of a countywide Inter-Religious Committee of Clergymen in support of the United Way/CHAD First Combined Campaign was announced today.

The committee appealed directly to every clergyman of every church, parish and synagogue in San Diego County to highlight the United Way/CHAD campaign during the Thanksgiving Sabbath weekend of Friday through Sunday and to arrange religious services and other activities appropriate to the campaign effort.

Its organization and appeal, and committee announced, is based on "recognition of significant and essential services performed by the 99 human care and health care agencies which are supported by United Way and CHAD (Combined Health Agencies Drive)" in the current campaign to raise $8,033,980.

The campaign is scheduled to wind up November 27.

In a letter to all clergymen of the county, committee members noted that while they issued their appeal as individuals, (we are) "confident that our sentiments are a true reflection of the feelings both of our several organizations and the memberships."

Their letter follows, in part:

"We came together to consider how best jointly to enlist the strength of the total religious community and to show its concern for the successful climax of this year's effort to serve through United Way/CHAD. We have covenanted to serve as an Inter-Religious Committee in this ad hoc role.

Starts Friday

"Together we would ask that your congregation celebrate with us the Thanksgiving Sabbath weekend of Friday night through Sunday, in two specific ways:

"1. By including the community service of United Way/CHAD as one important blessing for which to express our thanks this year. The multiplied social and human care services rendered to the thousands of persons of need among us make this a worthy item for which to express gratitude to Almighty God.

2. By urging individuals within your congregation to give serious thought to their commitment and support of United Way/CHAD as the 1974 campaign reaches its climax, ending November 27.

"We suggest that where you deem advisable these two concerns be included in bulletin or news-letter publicity; in announcements; and where suitable in sermons preached that weekend.

"Thank you for your community concern."

Academy Aids Needy With Free Milk Pgm.

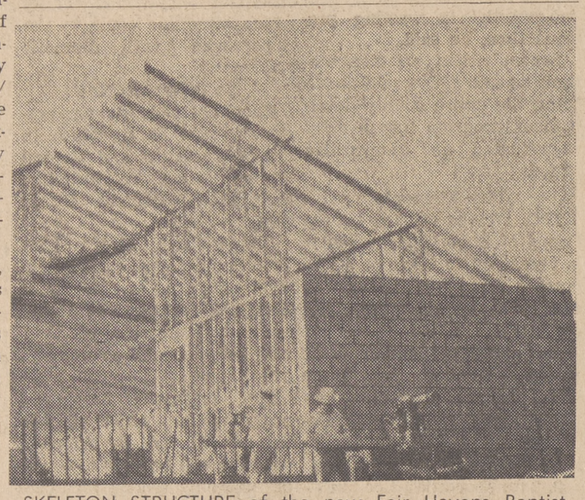
Santa Sophia Academy, in Spring Valley, recently initiated a policy which provides free milk to children whose parents cannot easily afford to participate in the school system's Special Milk Program.

School officials derived a scale listing minimum income per family size to qualify for the program.

Confidential application forms were to be sent home with the children.

Hyland to be Installed

La Mesa real estate man, Dick Hyland, co-owner of Ryland-McIntosh Realty at 5555 Jackson dr., will be installed as a Committee Chairman for the Century 21 Brokers Council in San Diego, Friday nite, at the Annual Installation and Awards Banquet.



SKELETON STRUCTURE of the new Fair Havens Baptist Church looms above the horizon at 9255 Lamar st. The new building will soon replace the old church at 2115 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove.

Fair Havens' Muscle Cuts Church Construction Costs

Does doing $200,000 worth of construction for only $60,000 sound like beating inflation? The people of Fair Havens Baptist Church in Lemon Grove seem to think so.

In February they embarked upon a building project to move the church site from Imperial ave., in Lemon Grove to 9255 Lamar st. in Spring Valley. The 125-member congregation was growing too large for their building.

With 98% volunteer labor from within the church, they are nearing completion of the new sanctuary.

The contractor, electrician, plumber, mason and roofer all devoted their time and talents toward the goal. A woodcraftsman trained in Germany will soon begin on the interior finish work.

Pastor Emory Langrell has been involved in two other building projects, and seems optimistic despite a minor problem. "Seven hundred dollars worth of shingles was stolen," he said, relating how the police had found the purloined materials a mile from the building site recently.

The building will be two stories with a 300-capacity auditorium on the street level, and a fellowship hall and education facilities on the ground level. With 2.5 acres of extra land at the site, the congregation plans expansion with two projected education facilities and a full-fledged sanctuary. S.T.

The $100 duty-free allowance on goods brought back from abroad by Americans applies only to articles carried in person and not to goods which are shipped.

Center Works for Lemon Grove Youth

Channeling the energy of Lemon Grove's growing youth is the goal of the Lemon Grove Youth Center, a project now operating in its early stages at the Lemon Grove United Church of Christ, 2770 Glebe rd.

The center, which concentrates on community recreation for pre-high school children, employs the church facilities for a program ranging from dance and cooking to communicational programs.

The current center is the result of an original proposal by Geoffrey Martyn and Barbara Collis, members of the Heartland Human Relations Association. Their efforts were precipitated by results of a survey conducted by the Association. The survey queried parents living within a one-mile radius of the church about recreational outlets available to their children. Results revealed a desire from the residents for some kind of community recreation program for their children.

A pilot program was curtained last summer due to a money gap, and the Youth Center had to start from scratch last month. The second effort is staying alive through volunteer help and $16,940 in directors' salaries and equipment.

Recruiting efforts are directed to the schools, Program Co-ordinator Susan Buchenau said, telling of Martyn's campaigns in local junior high schools. "We want the children to ask their parents. We don't want parents to force their children to come."

Funded for nine months, the Center is open Tuesday through Friday, 3-5 p.m.

Barbara Collis envisions a permanent center enjoying community support, as is a sister-project in La Mesa. She stressed her hopes for a Lemon Grove Park and Recreation program, citing a good start with the Youth Center.

"The kids like it," she said, "and that's the best publicity."

H.H.R.A. can answer questions about the center and similar projects in other areas at 460-2744.

'Star of Bethlehem' For Holiday at Space Theatre

The Reuben E. Fleet Space theatre will explore the sky of Bethlehem of 2,000 years ago in its major December production, "The Star of Bethlehem".

It opens December 3.

Audiences will travel 2,000 years back in time to the Holy Land and gaze, as the wise men and shepherds did, at the sky over Bethlehem and over the manger.

A celestial computer, 10,000 optical lenses and mirrors, the starball capable of projecting 10,000 stars, plus a myriad of visual effects will recreate the heavens of the night of Christ's birth.

In recreating that first Christmas Eve, the Space Theater explores the most widely-accepted explanations. Clues are provided by the Gospel, Jewish and Persian scriptures, astronomy, historical texts and recent archaelogical findings as the Space Theater presentation unravels a mystery pondered by theologians and scientists for centuries.

Was It A Meteor?

Interpreting "star" in ancient terms, the Star of Bethlehem could have been any "light" in the sky and thus the Space Theater asks the question — was it a meteor? Could it have been a comet? Was it a dying star? Was it a planet? Available astronomical data helped proved a clue. Another key to the puzzle is that it is now known that the wise men were Zoroastrian priests from Persia. And audiences will discover: "The Zoroastrian priests were likely aware that a prophecy had been proclaimed of the coming of a King to the Hebrews, a Messiah, a Saviour, and they might have patiently watched the constellation Pisces, the fishes, for a celestial sign of His coming.

Theater holiday audiences will then see the significant constellation glow with an astronomical display, appearing to the wise men as a "star" actually physically pointing toward Bethlehem.

Created by the Space Theater technical staff, "The Star of Bethlehem" is augmented with the world's great Christmas music and includes views of stained glass windows featuring Nativity scenes from windows at La Jolla's Saint James-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church.

Daily Showings

The family holiday showings will be offered a total of 43 times a week December 3-20, expanding to eight daily showings December 21-26 and continuing through January 5 with daily screenings.

Discounts are extended to senior citizens, military families and students over 17 years of age, with group attendance reductions offered for scheduled visits.

Operated by the San Diego Hall of Science, the non-profit Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater and Science Center is located in eastern Balboa Park, with ample free parking adjacent to the building.

Bible Society Sends God's Word Where Disaster Strikes

Surviving victims of the devastating hurricane in Honduras are now receiving the comforting word of God along with their clothing and food allotments.

The American Bible Society shipped, via air cargo, 30,000 Portions of Romans and 5,000 New Testaments for Protestants and Roman Catholics in response to an urgent call for them from Saul Gomez, secretary of the Honduras Bible Society.

Ever since the hurricane struck late in September the Honduras Bible Society headquarters in Tegucigalpa, little damaged, has been a haven for many left destitute by the storm. Bible House has been a center for the collection and distribution of food, clothing and money to aid the victims.

The supply of Scriptures in the Honduras Bible House was depleted. Through Alberto J. Carcamo, secretary of the United Bible Societies regional center in Mexico City, the appeal for help was directed to the American Bible Society which responded immediately. The American Bible Society is one of the 56 members that comprise the United Bible Societies.

Generous contributions of churches, organizations and individuals enable the American Bible Society, a nonprofit organization, to answer emergency appeals for Scriptures from victims of disasters, such as the violent, cyclonic storm that hit Honduras.

Since its organization in 1816, the American Bible Society has had as its purpose the translation, publication and distribution of the Scriptures, without doctrinal note or comment, to people everywhere in a language they can understand and at a price they can afford.

Teachers' Group Claims Victory at November Polls

BURLINGAME — Seven state legislative and congressional candidate backed by teachers won at the polls in San Diego and Imperial counties.

Mrs. Betty Tetzke of San Diego, a member of the board of directors of the Association for Better Citizenship (ABC), the political arm of the California Teachers Association (CTA), made the announcement. Mrs. Tetzke's ABC District No. 16 includes San Diego and Imperial counties.

In stressing the teacher support was nonpartisan, Mrs. Tetzke, a counselor at Hale Junior High School, San Diego, declared:

"Incumbents supported by the teachers were those who have demonstrated a commitment for quality education and a sensitivity to the problems of the schools. Unproven candidates were supported for their knowledge of educational problems and expressed willingness to take leadership in solving them."

Winning candidates in Mrs. Tetzke's district supported by ABC were: AD 75 Tom Suitt (D), AD 77 Bob Wilson (D), AD 78 Larry Kapiloff (D), AD 79 Pete Chacon (D), AD 80 Wadie Deddeh (D), SD 40 James Mills (D), CD 42 Lionel Van Deerlin (D), she said.

Mrs. Tetzke also noted that on a statewide basis teachers chalked up an impressive 85 percent record in backing winning candidates.

Winning state constitutional office candidates supported by CTA and ABC were: Edmund G. Brown, Jr. — Governor, Mervyn Dymally — Lt. Governor, March Fong — Secretary of State, Jess Unruh — Treasurer.

Incumbent U. S. Senator Alan Cranston, who also won, received support.

Sweeper 'Salesmen' Create Complaints

Two Negro males are reported to be circulating in Spring Valley describing themselves as vacuum cleaner salesmen for a Lemon Grove firm.

It was reported to the Sheriff's office that the men push into the homes of elderly residents and demonstrate a sweeper they carry.

While one is demonstrating, the other wanders through the house, at least two residents reported. In no case has anything been taken.

One of the men is said to have told a resident that he represented the Lemon Grove Kirby firm at 7931 Broadway.

Jack Darby, owner of the Kirby firm said that the men were not associated with him.

"Our men wear name tags that are actually San Diego Police Department licenses. Our trucks have our name prominently displayed on the sides. We haven't been in the Spring Valley area recently. Our people also hand out a Consumer Protection pamphlet which explains limitations of direct sales operation. They're strict.

"If any person pushes in or fails to identify himself and says he's from Lemon Grove Kirby, the resident should call me at 460-3355," he said.

The National Endowment announced that the Company had met all artistic and managerial qualifications for the subsidy/incentive program, according to Carlene Carroll, managing director for the San Diego Ballet. According to the letter from the National Endowment, "Acceptance in the program constitutes recognition of the San Diego Ballet Company's artistic growth and achievement under the co-directorship of Dame Sonia Arova and Thor Sutowski."

Inclusion in the touring program means that the National Endowment will reimburse any qualified sponsor for one third of the San Diego Ballet Company's fees. "This program will enable the San Diego Ballet to greatly expand our touring schedule by making it economically attractive for sponsors to book us. The reimbursement of 33% of our booking fees will be a great incentive," Miss Carroll said.

Body Awareness is Cancer Society Theme

"Are you listening to your body?" is the question the American Cancer Society is asking residents of San Diego County this week, according to John T. P. Cudmore, M.D. President of the San Diego County Unit of the Society.

"Body Awareness" has been chosen as the theme for this year's annual public education effort. Each year the American Cancer Society focuses on a special aspect of cancer control. This year's theme seeks to make everyone more knowledgable about their body and to recognize early symptoms of cancer, Cudmore said.

Breast Cancer will be one of the major areas of concern — urging all adult women to perform monthly breast self-examinations for lumps and changes in the breast. Volunteers who have been trained to teach breast self-exam are conducting demonstration programs throughout the county during Cancer Education Week.

Using the interior of a Mobile Medical Van, classes are being held for groups of five women with each class lasting ten minutes. There is an opportunity for questions as well as a step-by-step explanation of the self-exam procedure.

Following are remaining dates of the program:

Today — Mission Valley Center near Montgomery Ward.

Friday — Plaza Camino Real Shopping Center, Carlsbad.

Saturday — Chula Vista Shopping Center.

All sessions are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Literature on breast cancer or on Cancer Education Week can be obtained by calling The Education Department of the American Cancer Society, 235-6586.

Sex Bias Illegal, Housing Act States

Discrimination based on sex in the sale, rental, or financing of housing or the provision of real estate brokerage services is now illegal, Albert E. Johnson, Director of the San Diego Insuring Office of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development said recently.

"The equal opportunity provisions of the federal housing laws now protect women, as well as minorities, against illegal discrimination. Specifically, the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 added 'sex' as an illegal form of discrimination," Johnson explained.

Previously, the law prohibited discrimination in the sale, rental, or financing of a home because of a person's race, color, religion, or national origin.

Under the new provisions, bankers, lenders, real estate brokers, and landlords cannot discriminate on the basis of sex in the making of a mortgage loan, insurance guarantee, or related assistance, nor in the sale or rental of housing. Also, they cannot refuse to consider the full amount of a woman's salary in determining the eligibility of a family for a mortgage loan. Previously, the woman's salary was often discounted in the belief that she might leave the job market, especially if she became pregnant.

A woman who feels she has been discriminated against because of sex in attempting to buy, rent, or secure a mortgage on a home may file a complaint under Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. Complaints should be directed either in writing to the local HUD Office of Equal Opportunity, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, P.O. Box 2648, San Diego, 92112, or by calling the office at 293-6257.

HOME-COOKED

This Week's RECIPE

Treat Turkey to a New Taste

Big birds are a better buy than ever for the family dinner table. And not just for special holiday occasions. For the cost of just one bird, a tender, tasty turkey can make any number of tempting meals in the hands of a versatile cook.

But turkey can be boring—especially if it's always stuffed the same way. To make turkey taste different, try substituting a rice stuffing for the more ordinary bread-based type. The result will be both delicious and different — and thrifty cooks will like the fact that rice stuffing re-heat with hardly a drop of flavor lost.

RICE STUFFING

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 3 cups chopped celery
- ¼ cup minced parsley
- 8 cups cooked rice (cooked in broth)
- 2 tspns. thyme
- 1½ tsps. salt
- 1 tsp. ground or rubbed sage
- ½ tsp. ground pepper
- ½ tsp. ground cloves
- ½ tsp. ground nutmeg

Melt butter in a large pan. Add onions, celery and parsley. Saute over low heat until tender, stirring constantly. Add cooked rice and seasonings. Toss together lightly. Makes enough stuffing for a 12-15 lb. turkey. Stuffing may be cooked separately in a covered baking dish at 325° F for 35-40 minutes.

'Big Band' Expands Ticket Outlets

Tickets for Wednesday's Bob Crosby "Big Band" concert can now be obtained at all Ticketron outlets, as well as all offices of Home Federal Savings and Optimist Clubs in the San Diego area, it was announced this week.

The concert is held at 8 p.m. in the San Diego Civic Theater. Tickets are priced from $6 to $10.

Legal Sec.'s to Celebrate 43rd

The San Diego Legal Secretaries Association holds its 43rd Anniversary Celebration Monday, 5:30 p.m. to honor past presidents, charter members and honorary members of the association.

Theme of the event is "A Brief Revue," the highlight of the evening being a talent show featuring performances by past presidents and members of the Association.

Also on the agenda is a Christmas Bazaar.

Nancy E. Halsne, of Spring Valley, is one of two co-chairmen on the Anniversary Committee.

The celebration is held in the Palm Room of the U. S. Grant Hotel, 326 Broadway, downtown San Diego.

First- and second-grade students in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District are better readers than most students at the same grades in California and throughout the nation. The news came from a report to the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education covering tests given to students in the 1973-74 school year. The report was presented November 6 by Dr. Martin Gerstein, the school district Director of Pupil Services.

Gerstein stated the average reading score for 1,251 first-grade students was just at the second-grade level (2.0) when they were tested this past spring. This is a full two months ahead of first-graders from one year ago, District spokesmen claim.

Second-grade students were tested last spring also, and results show they were reading as well as beginning third-graders — two months in advance of other second-grade readers around the country. On a similar test of reading skills, third-grade students scored right at the average for California and the nation.

Sixth-grade students in the district were measured in October of 1973 on reading, language, and arithmetic tests. Reading scores for the 1,620 sixth-graders were the highest of the three subjects measured. The average reading score was two months higher than the average in California for sixth-graders and slightly below the average for the United States. Both language and arithmetic scores of LMSV sixth-graders from 1973 are below those of reading. Although the local students exceeded other sixth-grade pupils in California in language and arithmetic, they were behind the average students in the United States in these two subjects.

Gerstein cautioned that the scores presented were averages from thousands of students. "Although these average scores for primary students (first-, second-, and third-grades) are excellent, I would encourage each and every parent to discuss his child's latest test results with the teacher."

A new state testing program began in May when second- and third-grade students answered specially selected questions in what is called a "Reading Matrix Test." The State Department of Education will attempt to compare the scores from these tests with other background factors which are supposed to predict the reading performances of the students.

Gerstein said results from the first of the new testing should be received in the middle of November.

Crusaders in Okla.

Point Loma College basketball team travels to Oklahoma for the opening weekend of play, November 22, 23 and 25. The Crusader opponent Friday and Saturday nights will be Bethany Nazarene College of Bethany, Oklahoma.

On Monday evening the Crusaders will move on to Chickasha, Oklahoma and a single game with Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts.

The opening weekend of play will supply a great test before the squad returns to San Diego for a November 30 game with USD.

MIDWEST BACKDROP SEARCH ENDS HERE —The restored Victorian home of Mr. Rurik Kallis 7052 Central ave., Lemon Grove, captured the imagination of a national firm which sent a Hollywood film crew to the scene to shoot a television commercial last week. Kallis, a USIU art instructor, has devoted much time and effort to the restoration of the home which ended the firm's search for a suitable Midwest setting. The crew revamped the landscaping to remove the tropical trappings in the yard and installed Midwestern shrubbery for the ad.

Seminars Help Teach Parents About Children's Tough Job

Getting parents involved in the schools of their children is the goal of math and reading seminars conducted at Maryland Avenue Elementary School in La Mesa.

"Two things we hope to accomplish are to involve the parents with what the children are doing and to show that learning is not an easy process, said Principal Cal Strickland.

After delving into "New Math" concepts taught at a recent math seminar, parents quickly realized that learning today does not come easily.

"Superset, closure property, and union" were only some of the terms whispered about questionably at the seminar.

Frustration was the feeling of many who attended a reading seminar, stemming from attempts to learn to read using a new alphabet.

Of 20 parents who attended the math seminar and 40 who showed up for the reading, a majority felt they were worthwhile.

The workshops, which will continue as long as parents express an interest, are gaining the attention of educational administrators.

"We have been asked to repeat the reading seminar for the superintendent of schools and PTA Wednesday at the Education Center, Strickland said.

In addition to the seminars, parents are also involved in a volunteer aid program at four schools in the district including Maryland Avenue. Fifty parents lend invaluable assistance to the oversized classes.

Pool-A-Thon Pours $6,400 into Fund

By Trudy Baker

Swimmers, ranging from 16-month-old Heidi Holm to old timers like Mt. Miguel principal Dr. Robert Pyle, raised $6,400 in the second Miguel Community Aquatic Center Pool-A-Thon held at Gunther Pool earlier this month.

115 swimmers participated in the action, helped along by local disc jockey and Mt. Miguel alumnus, Shot Gun Tom Kelly. Many of the participants swam 200 laps. The big money swimmers in the Pool-A-Thon were Nanci Welch, $295; Roy Valadez, $265; Dennis McCormack, $216; and Julie Zak, $200.

Construction on the pool will begin when $90,000 is reached. So far, the fund-raising projects have brought in $18,000. The District is willing to pitch in $25,000 while the County will add $50,000. The total cost of a pool is approximately $200,000, but inflation may increase the construction costs.

Ron Boone—582 Straight Games

Following Friday's 8 o'clock game with the vaunted Kentucky Colonels, leaders of ABA East, the Conquistadors host the Utah Stars on Sunday at 7 p.m.

Ron Boone, the Stars' 6-2 muscular guard, will attract the attention of most local fans.

Boone has never missed a game and his streak is 512 games and growing.

Add in 70 consecutive playoff appearances and the skein ranks as one of the greatest in pro basketball history.

"I come to play every night," he says and it's something he has been doing since coming to the American Basketball Association in 1968.

"I'll probably play as long as my body will let me," he says. "I don't feel like I've slowed down at all and I don't feel any older than when I started. But maybe it will hit me all at once. I just can't tell."

Kerr's Record

Boone would like to smash John Kerr's regular season — and the other phases of his pro record of 844 consecutive games which means he'll have to keep on going until somewhere into the 1978-79 season.

"Right now, Ron Boone is experiencing a complete change in his approach to the game," says Utah coach Bucky Buckwalter "For a long time he was the sixth man on this team and when he finally broke into the starting lineup Jimmy Jones was around to control the tempo of the game in the backcourt. With all the changes that have taken place, he has now become the team leader."

"The Chief" is scoring better than at any time during his pro career — the best was 18.9 as a rookie with Dallas — and the other phases of his game have improved tremendously, too.

"My defense is better too because I tried to take it upon myself to improve," says Boone. "You know, I've never thought of myself as being a super star because I never thought of myself as being better than anyone else. I just want everybody on our team to know that I'm giving everything and I hope they're doing the same."

Boone came to the Stars from Dallas in 1971 and went from a starter to sixth man in the ABA. He picked up the tag "Instant Offense," for coming off the bench and scoring points in a hurry.

"In those days I knew I had a particular job to do," he says. "Now, it's different. I'm trying to help our young players along. We've undergone a lot of changes with Govan (Gerald) the only one back who played an important role in the Division championship."

19 Mat Girls in CIF Swim Test

Although the Matador girls' swim finished sixth this season, the team nonetheless had 19 girls in the CIF competition out of 27 who were eligible.

Brenda Belanger broke two Grossmont League records in the league meet the week before, one in the 100 Individual Medley and one in the Varsity Freestyle Relay. The point totals for that meet were as follows: Grossmont, 208; Granite Hills, 57½; Helix, 51; Valhalla, 48; Monte Vista, 43½; Mount Miguel, 29; El Cap, 18; El Cajon, 1; and Santana, 0.

The Mat team is coached by Shirley Oates.

Grossmont Clinches Water Polo Title

Steve Smith scored ten goals in ten attempts last week as Grossmont College drowned San Bernardino Valley 25-3 to sew up the Mission Conference water polo championship.

Freshman gunner Steve Solomon contributed four more scores and goalie Bob Gehrke had 15 saves in the drubbing.

The game marked the second straight conference championship and the third in five years of Mission Conference play for the Griffs.

Smith led the team in scoring with 63 goals during the regular season, followed by Solomon with 58.

The Griffins, 7-0 in conference and 16-5-1 overall, will now go to the Southern California playoffs November 26.

The group will leave the Museum at 10 a.m. Friday and return Sunday evening. Charge for the trip is $6. Call the Museum for reservation and details — 232-3821, ext. 22.

Champion's Hall Names 2 Gridders

Dazzling performances by the San Diego Chargers' Don Woods and San Diego State's Mike Gilbert have earned them October Star of the Month recognition from the Hall of Champions athletic awards committee.

Woods, whose ball carrying has made him one of the most feared halfbacks in the National Football League, was selected as the outstanding professional athlete, while Gilbert led among amateur candidates.

During the month the hard-running Woods topped the 100-yard mark on the ground in four consecutive games, caught three passes and scored a touchdown. His best effort came Oct. 27 against Kansas City when he reeled off 154 yards and brought his seasonal rushing total to 622.

Gilbert was cited primarily for his superlative play against highly-regarded San Jose when he staged a one-man show. The 245-pound tackle established a new Aztec record on the defensive chart, being credited with the awesome total of 65 points as the result of seven unassisted tackles, two assisted tackles, four quarterback sacks, two pass defenses, a fumble recovery and 19 pass rushes.

Additionally, Gilbert broke through 25 times to make pursuits of Craig Kimbell, San Jose quarterback, behind the line of scrimmage.

Roth Gains Griffs' Passing Record in Palomar Drubbing

Grossmont College quarterback Joe Roth completed 21 of 38 passes for 247 yards en route to another record Saturday as the Griffins ripped Palomar College 37-14 at Aztec Bowl.

The Griffth raced to a 14-0 lead four minutes into the first quarter on the strength of two Roth bombs, one to Don Kramer for 51 yards and a touchdown, the other a 29-yard scoring strike to Dave Oliver. Walter Hoye Jr. scored on a six yard run and Jorge DaSilva kicked a Grossmont-record 54 yard field goal to round out the first half scoring.

DaSilva wasn't the only record setter on this day, though. Roth's 247 yards through the air gave him a total of 1,905 for the year. The previous season high was 1,811 in 1969 by Greg Gleason. Roth now owns every Grossmont College passing record in the books and the Griffs still have one game left on their schedule.

USIU Gridders Eye 7-2 Season

With three straight wins and a 6-2 season record the United States International U. gridders hope to improve those marks this Saturday when they travel to Azusa Pacific. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

"We expect a tough game," Coach Don Turner said. "Azusa has good size up front on both offense and defense and in Jim Farmer, the Cougars have a talented back who has gained more than 3,000 yards during his career."

Turner said that Azusa turned in a fine performance last Saturday in extending Cal State, Los Angeles before bowing, 6-3.

Last week the Westerners downed St. Mary's, 28-6 for their third consecutive victory and a 6-2 record with two more games to play.

Caliente Fans, Wagers Grow

TIJUANA — Agua Caliente Racetrack experienced an upswing in attendance and mutuel handles for the second straight weekend Saturday and Sunday.

On Sunday, the estimated 11,500 fans wagered $375,724 on the 11 races held and this was the second best day since the May 4 opening when a total of $519,549 was bet by an estimated 25,000 players.

The combined mutuel and 5-10 handle for the past weekend at Caliente amounted to $916,257 for an increase of $34,746 over the previous weekend.

At present, Caliente offers the only thoroughbred racing in Southern California. This fact, coupled with improvements and increased interest in the Tijuana track, would appear to be major factors in Calente's current prosperity.

The popular 5-10 contest at Caliente has had two big winners in recent weeks which brought attention to the border racing facility. On Saturday, Ruben Lerma of Tijuana collected $63,982.40 for correctly selecting six winners on his multiple 5-10 ticket. One week earlier, Manuel Fortner of Fontana won $116,128.20 in the handicapping contest with an $8 multiple ticket.

Racing continues Saturday and Sunday at Caliente with 11 races daily with the first post time promptly at noon each day.

Times 500 Race Is Charity Event

Big-time stock car racing will return to Ontario Motor Speedway at 11 a.m. Sunday in the first running of the Los Angeles Times 500 Grand National, the final race in the 1974 Winston Cup Series.

NASCAR superstars Richard Petty, David Pearson, Cale Yarborough and Bobby Allison will be challenged by former Indianapolis champions A. J. Foyt and Johnny Rutherford in the $120,000, 500-mile race.

Also on the race card over the weekend will be the Permatex 200 for Late Model Sportsman cars. Any car made between 1961 and 1970 can be used in the race which will be run Saturday.

"It could be one of the most exciting weekends in Southern California racing history," said Glenn Davis, Director of Special Events for the sponsoring Times. "Stock car racing has become the most popular form of racing in America and Ontario is certainly one of the most beautiful and comfortable facilities in the world."

All proceeds from the event will go to youth-oriented charities in the Southern California area.

The legendary Foyt has won the only two Grand National races ever held at Ontario. He powered his way to the checkered flag in both 1971 and 1972 on the high-banked, 2.5-mile track.

"The Good Ol' Boys"—Petty, Pearson, Yarborough and Allison—have dominated the sport almost exclusively for the past decade. Between them they have won over 300 Grand National races and nearly $5 million in purse money.

Padres Spring Training Starts at Yuma on March 15

The San Diego Padres will open their spring training camp in Yuma, Arizona on March 5 and play a 12-game "home" exhibition schedule it was announced by Padres General Manager Peter Bavasi.

The schedule for Yuma will feature two games with the Chicago White Sox of the American League's Western Division. The games are set for Saturday and Sunday, April 5-6. The meetings will be the first-ever between the two clubs as the White Sox train in Florida, but will be out early this season in preparation for their regular season-opener against a West Coast team.

Spring training will be about one week shorter this season for all seven clubs working in Arizona as camps will all be opening around March 5 and end on April 6.

This will mark the seventh straight season the Padres have utilized the training facilities in Yuma, having made the town their home base since the inception of the club in 1969.

"We are extremely pleased with the fine facilities offered to us at the Desert Sun Stadium complex," related Bavasi. "The facility has been rated one of the best, if not the very best, of the entire spring training complexes in either Arizona or Florida. We have received tremendous support from the people and the town of Yuma and we are looking forward to another spring there."

The Padres are hosted annually by the Caballeros de Yuma, a men's service organization in Yuma.

Apart from meeting the White Sox at the end of the training period, the Padres will also meet the Cleveland Indians and new manager Frank Robinson three times, the Chicago Cubs and San Francisco Giants twice and the Milwaukee Brewers (and Hank Aaron) and California Angels once in Yuma.

One special exhibition game will also be played against the Padres Triple-A Hawaii farm club.

Spring Training Schedule

Mar. 15-16 — Cleveland Indians
Mar. 17 — Milwaukee Brewers
Mar. 19-20 — Chicago Cubs
Mar. 28-29 — San Francisco Giants
Mar. 30 — Hawaii farm club
Mar. 31 — California Angels
Apr. 3 — Cleveland Indians
Apr. 5-6 — Chicago White Sox

All games 1 p.m. at Desert Sun Stadium in Yuma.

John Hadl and Jim Hall Greet Chargers Sunday

Old friends John Hadl and Jim Hill head the welcoming committee when the San Diego Chargers play at Green Bay for the first time against the Packers Sunday. The game will be on KSDO radio and TV 10 at 11 a.m.

While the Packers are 5-5, Hadl is 2-0 as starting quarterback after his surprise trade from Los Angeles to Green Bay. The off-season El Cajon resident, who played 11 years for the Chargers, became the new toast of old "Title Town U.S.A." by leading the Packers over the Vikings, 19-7, at Minnesota last Sunday.

Green Bay safety Hill, a San Diego television sports announcer during the off-season, long has promised to show his former Charger teammates the virtues of exposure to the Wisconsin winter.

For three years, San Diego assistant coach Willie Wood has taught his defensive backs to look for trick passes. Bob Brown is playing back to his Green Bay glory years as a starting Charger tackle. Don Horn also is a Charger now.

But the one former Packer who commands the San Diego spotlight this Sunday wasn't around Green Bay long enough to appreciate the tradition of Curly Lambeau and Vince Lombardi. His was one summer of strike and strife.

Don Woods was a No. 6 draft choice of Green Bay from the University of New Mexico. He led the Packers in rushing during the strike-torn pre-season games. But once such veteran stars as John Brockington and MacArthur Lane reported, Woods was told to leave.

"I was very disappointed," said Woods, "I thought I had made the team.

$100 Price Tag

Woods was claimed by San Diego on $100 waivers on Sept. 10. He did not play in the Chargers' opener and carried the ball only twice in the second game. He missed one other game because of injury. But in his seven full games, the 6-foot-2, 210-pound former college quarterback has blazed five 100-yard plus rushing games. He had his second 100-yarder against tough Oakland last Sunday.

Woods is a standout contender for "rookie of the year" honors. he has rushed for 790 yards with a 5.7 average and five touchdowns. He has caught 16 passes for 235 yards, a 14.7 average and two touchdowns. As of Monday, he ranked third in AFC rushing behind O. J. Simpson of Buffalo (822) and Sam Cunningham of New England (811).

Woods' log of 100-yard games: 157 vs. Miami, 133 vs. Philadelphia, 118 vs. Oakland, 154 vs. Kansas City and 117 vs. Oakland.

7 to 7

En route to the tying touchdown last week the Chargers had a first down on the Oakland 7 with 1:28 left. Four plays later their fourth-quarter rally died on the 7.

The Chargers lost to the Raiders, 17-10, before 53,880 (paid) at Oakland Coliseum.

It was San Diego's second narrow loss to the AFC West leaders. The first score was 14-10. The games represent Oakland's lowest point totals of the year.

Don Woods led the Chargers Sunday with 117 yards rushing and scored his team's only touchdown. Dan Fouts completed 9 of 21 passes for 159 yards with no interceptions. Ray Wersching kicked a 42-yard field goal.

Defensively linebacker Carl Gersbach had 11 unassisted tackles; linebacker Floyd Rice intercepted a Ken Stabler pass to break Stabler's five-game flawless streak, and tackle Dave Rowe blocked his fourth placement attempt (3 FGs, 1 PAT).

Next week the Chargers play their fourth successive road game against the New York Jets at Shea Stadium on Sunday, Dec. 1.

Q's, Colonels Tangle Sunday

Friday evening the San Diego Conquistadors battle the Eastern Division leading Kentucky Colonels in an 8 p.m. tipoff.

The Colonels are led by all-stars Artis Gilmore, one of the top centers in the game today; high scoring forward Dan Issel and steady guard Louie Dampier.

The game with Kentucky is Holiday Hosts night. Two-for-one discount coupons good for the $6 seats are available at the Host office at the Convention and Visitors Bureau at 1200 3rd st., or at the Conquistador business offices, 3500 Sports Arena blvd.

Sunday the Utah Stars and Moses Malone meet the Conquistadors at the Sports Arena in a 7 p.m. contest. The game is another big one for all the ladies. At halftime there will be a special free throw shoot for women of all ages and those ladies that make a free throw will receive a Thanksgiving turkey, courtesy of the Q's.

Matador Band to Compete in Arcadia

Mt. Miguel High School's Band and Specialty Corps travel to Arcadia, California this weekend to compete in the West Arcadia Band Review.

The review will bring together 36 of the most outstanding high school marching bands in Southern California, according to Dean Immel, Matador bandleader.

The band returns Sunday to perform in the Mother Goose Parade in El Cajon.

Mariners Try 'Call-up' Aid

Caught in the midst of an early season slump that has found their defense and goaltending coming up short and part of their offense sputtering, the World Hockey Association San Diego Mariners have called up two players from their Syracuse farm club.

Obviously displeased with losses to New England and Cleveland despite outshooting those two rivals by a combined 82-49 margin, the Mariners have augmented their roster with goaltender Bob Blanchet and center Mike Laughton. Beating the Houston Aeros Sunday gave them little solace.

Both are expected to see action as San Diego visits Minnesota, Saturday, then hosts Edmonton, Nov. 26 and Chicago, Nov. 28. The latter Sports Arena games have a 7:30 p.m. opening faceoff.

San Diego began this week with a Tuesday home encounter against Vancouver.

In order to make room for the callups, center Lee Inglis has been returned to Syracuse, leaving San Diego two over the player limit.

The Mariners still are in second place in the WHA's Western Division behind defending league champion Houston but player-coach Harry Howell is not happy with the team's overall performance.

"We're getting some points from our first line (center Andre Lacroix, right winger Wayne Rivers and left winger Gene Peacosh) but that's about it," Howell said after a 7-2 loss to New England coupled with a 5-3 defeat by Cleveland.

Goalie Lose Sharpness

In addition, goalies Joe Junkin and Russ Gillow both have lacked their early season sharpness and the results have been bad. New England and Cleveland scored an average of one goal for each four shots in the double loss.

Of the two new men on the roster, Laughton is a 30-year-old veteran and Blanchet is a 20-year-old rookie. Laughton played full schedules with the franchise in 1972-73 and '73-'74, amassing 74 points on 36 goals and 38 assists.

A four-year member of the National League California Seals, Laughton was ticketed for a center spot on this year's San Diego roster but surrendered his position to Ray Adduono and saw no action in the team's first four games before he was shipped to Syracuse. He has five assists in five games there.

Blanchet had a fine 6-2 won-lost mark at Syracuse, including two shutouts and a 2.13 goals against average. He was a 16th round choice of the Mariners in the 1974 amateur draft and has been signed to a two-year contract. Blanchet was also drafted by the NHL Washington team.

All-star center Lacroix continues to pace the San Diego scoring parade with Rivers and Peacosh in a hot battle for the runner-up berth. Behind them comes the second line of center Ray Adduono and wingers Rick Sentes and Norm Ferguson.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

This goes back a ways, but even if it sounds silly at first reading, a more thoughtful study will reveal it's probably just as silly the second time around.

The "sport" is face slapping and it goes back to a bar (what else) in Kiev, Russia. A couple of town lads were whooping it up in a local vodka parlor, where after a toast to each other's health, Wasyl Bezbordny and Michalko Goniusx began slapping each other's kisser.

At first the slaps were tender little taps, but as the contest drew on, the contact increased in force and effort. A fellow vodkaite acted as referee for the first 10 hours, but he wore out before either of the contestants decided they had had enough. The referee went home exhausted and another took his place.

The record book doesn't say, but one supposes that liberal amounts of vodka were consumed by the slapping parties and their onlookers during the contest. (Certainly, even in 1931, Kiev tavern owners were profit oriented).

After more than 30 hours (and only God knows how many gallons of vodka), and with both contestants' faces ripped, torn and bloody, and neither willing to give in to the other, the third referee is reported to have said, "This is silly, comrades. Stop it and go home."

At which time both Wasyl and Michalko quit, finished the last of their drink and went home. The contest was officially declared a draw.

Unfortunately, the sport died out soon after that. Oh, there are probably a handful of faithful followers on various college campuses across the world. In fact, the way things are going on university grounds these days, a class in "face slapping" is probably listed in the curriculum guide of at least one institution of higher learning west of the Mississippi.

But the sport is not now popular. And from this view, it should be.

Think of the advantage face slapping would have had in the old west. Instead of a fast draw and a dead body, disputes could have been settled in a battle of face toughness and hardened palms.

In fact, boxing is a little like that. Of course, according to semi-official face slapping rules, each participant takes his turn, one after the other.

Fighters, on the other hand, tend to get tricky and try to hit their opponents oftener and harder than is allowed under semi-official face slapping rules. They cover up and don't give the other fellow his fair chance.

Come to think of it, gun fighters were a little like that, too. According to history books and micro-film read outs of old time newspapers, gun fighters tended to hide in back alleys and shoot their opponents in the back. Not unlike a walk through Central Park in Manhattan any evening of the year.

Wouldn't it be great if you could challenge your boss to a face slap contest at the annual Christmas party. Of course, according to the semi-official rules, great quantities of vodka must be consumed before and during the contest.

In fact if one were to consume enough vodka he might find himself involved in such a contest without a challenge and win, lose ,or draw (like the first battle of the sport) without a job the next day.

The sport would undoubtedly evolve into weight divisions in time, and closed circuit television would probably price championship matches out of the average fan's pocketbook. Then, of course, there are those commercials where you give yourself a couple of slaps and say, "Thanks, I needed that." Professional face slappers would have a lock on those.

Even with the toughness of athletes today, on introspection one would have to admit, they just don't make "jocks" like they used to.

M.V. Grid Comeback Stuns Miguel 27-9

The Monte Vista Monarchs wound up a slow-starting season Friday by crushing archrival Mount Miguel 27-9. After losing their first four games (three losses were to league champions, and all were cliff-hangers), the Monarchs went on to win their last 5 in a row to tie up 2nd place in the Grossmont League, and set a new school record of 5-2 in league competition.

Monte Vista opened slowly as they have done all season, and after a sluggish 1st half went to the locker room leading 7-3.

But they came out smoking for the 2nd half, and suddenly it was Monte Vista 27, Mt. Miguel 3. That in essence was the game as Mt. Miguel was to score only once again.

Sadly, Mitch Bonilla, Monarch's top receiver and ace defensive back, was injured in the 2nd quarter, and will be out the remaining games.

Steve Perdue did a fine job passing and running. He had fine support from John Stall, Tom Wright, and the entire offensive line with excellent play by tackle Dean Wilson and tight end Dan Hillman.

John Ales, taking over for Bonilla, performed well. Defensively, Brad Tellum, Kevin Martin, Kent Wood, and end Dean Wilson were superb.

Mayon, Lujan, Tijerina on Coliseum Card Friday Night

San Diego lightweight Mike Mayon, who raised eyebrows around the country with his upset win over Jimmy Heair, takes on the latter's stablemate, Vic Abraham, Friday night in a 10 round return match at the Coliseum. Heair, scheduled to be on the same program cancelled out when a managerial problem arose.

Also included on the scheduled 38 round card will be bouts featuring unbeaten youngsters Carlos Tijerina (6-0) and Manuel Lujan (10-0). Tijerina, a stablemate of Art Hafey who resides in Pacific Beach, will tangle with Fernando Jones of San Jose while Lujan, a senior at San Diego High School, opposes Armando Mendietta of Bakersfield.

Like Heair, the hard punching Abraham was just a whisker shy of whipping Mayon in their recent battle at 15th and E, with one of the Mexican's patented, late round rallies pulling the fight out of the fire. But now with young Mike ranked 10th in his division, his rival figures to have some added incentive in the return go.

Abraham Underrated

"This Abraham scares me because he's tough and underrated," said Mayon's manager Danny Millsap. "He's much more dangerous than a lot of rated men, so we have to be extra careful."

"Abraham is playing the 'spoiler' role just like Mike did against Heair. And now that we have a hold on the bottom rung of the lightweight ladder, a loss could prove costly."

Mayon, 22, has not been defeated since dropping a disputed, split decision to Rudy Barro in Stockton this summer. His current win streak started with an eighth round stoppage of highly regarded Jimmy Robertson.

Although it was previously announced that "Cowboy" Heair would fight the Dominican Republic's Juan Collado, serious problems with manager Jerry Moore have apparently come to a head, making Jimmy "unavailable" for immediate ring duty.

Promoter Mickey Davies is still hopeful, however, of pitting Heair and Mayon together in the year end finale on December 13th, providing Mike gains a victory this Friday.

In a special 10 round comain event, Carlos Perez, who was impressive in embalming Enrique Mendez in four rounds last week, will try for a repeat performance against Diego Martinez of San Francisco.

Perez, a resident of East Los Angeles, also holds a knockout victory over well known Cesar Sinda of the Congo.

Last Week

If middleweight Manuel Fierro charges that he was robbed in his Friday night encounter with Irish Mike Nixon, he'll have plenty of sympathetic witnesses.

Fierro, in the fifth round of a 10-rounder in which Nixon was leading, staggered Nixon with a hard right cross to the head. After Nixon unscrambled his brains in an overlong clinch, he brought up a hard underhand right well under Fierro's belt. Fierro dropped to the canvas and was attended by ring Dr. William Lundeen.

California ring law allows only the loss of a point when a low blow is struck. It also allows five minutes of rest if the fighter is able to continue.

Fierro gamely returned to the fray. He had cut Nixon's left eye lid in the third round. Nixon brought blood to Fierro's mouth in the second and from his nose in the third.

After the fifth-round low blow Nixon coasted in. Officials gave the victory to Nixon on a split decision with two going 7-1 and 7-3 for Nixon and the third man seeing it 6-2 Fierro.

Unfair

The low-blow ruling appears to be an unfair one. As one newsman opined, "It's a license to foul."

Nixon is now 25-4 and Fierro, 47-10.

In a junior lightweight scrap, Carlos Perez of East Los Angeles won a technical knockout over Enrique Medez of Mexico City when the referee stopped the fight in the fourth of a bout scheduled for eight.

Julio Gomez of North Hollywood flattened Jimmy Jackson in the third of a six round welterweight bout.

Ocita Ayala won a split decision lightweight bout from Chalio Mendiola. Ayala hails from Los Angeles. Mendiola is from San Jose.

Ringtime each Friday is 8 p.m.

Bowling Green Gridders To Try Aztecs Saturday

For the third time in as many weeks the San Diego State U. football team will be facing a 1,000 yard rusher when sophomore Dave Preston leads his Bowling Green (Ohio) State U. teammates to San Diego Stadium for a 7:30 contest with the Aztecs Saturday night.

Saturday will also be Aztec Poster Night with free San Diego State posters being given away to the first 10,000 fans at the game. The posters are two-colors of an Aztec action shot and are 16 x 20.

Preston comes into Saturday's game as the nation's fourth leading rusher with 1301 yards in 10 games for a 130.1 per game average. Last week in Bowling Green's 38-20 win over Southern Mississippi, Preston rushed for 164 yards on 37 carries and scored three times. He also threw a 29 yard scoring pass. The three TD's brings his season total to 17.

Bowling Green comes into the game with a 6-4 record while San Diego State is 7-2 after beating New Mexico State last week 35-14.

The Aztec defense stopped New Mexico State running back Jim Germany with just 37 yards on 18 carries and the week before the Aztecs held Willard Harrell of Pacific to 79 yards on 20 tries. Germany came into the game as the nation's ninth leading rusher and Harrell in the No. 3 spot.

'Preston is Super

"This will be one of our stiffest tests yet," said Aztec coach Claude Gilbert. "Preston is a super runner. We've been very impressed from what we've seen. He lines up deep in the I and really pounds up in there.

"Last week against New Mexico State the defense played a very fine game. We pursued well and we gang-tackled the entire game. That's what I like to see—a lot of black shirts around the ball-carrier.

"The offense also played well in the first half and Craig Penrose again played well at quarterback until he got banged up. The offense played poorly in the second half."

The Aztecs fumbled seven times in the game and lost five and that may prove to be a major factor in Saturday's game against Bowling Green. The Falcons have lost only six fumbles this season and have not lost a fumble in nine games. They have also not given up a point in the third quarter in nine games and have given up ony seven for the season.

Fewer Commitments Mean More Money for S.D. Youth Authority

SACRAMENTO — Expected commitments of youths and adults to state institutions were reduced by 5,027 in 1973-74 as a result of California's probation subsidy program, it was announced by Allen F. Breed, Director of the Department of the Youth Authority.

The commitment reduction for the fiscal year was 422 less than the 5,449 recorded in 1972-73. This is the first year since the program began in 1966 that the reduction in commitments did not increase over a one-year period.

For San Diego County, commitments during 1973-74 were reduced from an expected level of 928 to 638, a total decrease of 290. This reduction will entitle the county to maximum earnings of $1.16 million from the subsidy program.

The program, enacted by the State Legislature in 1965, provides subsidies to counties in return for reductions in levels of commitment. The earnings must be used to provide intensive probation supervision programs for youthful and adult offenders.

Monthly Fun Runs are sponsored by the Greater San Diego Jogging Council, comprising many exercise groups.

The next Fun Run will be held at 12:15 on December 31 at 6th and Laurel in Balboa Park.

Auto Stickers Do Go on Right

Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert Cozens advises motorists renewing their vehicle registration for 1975 that instructions to place the license plate sticker in the "top right well" of the rear license plate are not in error.

"Follow the instructions, even though this results in covering the 1974 sticker," he said. "We realize that this is a departure from the traditional switching from one side of the license plate to the other."

From now on, the right hand well of the license plate will always show the year. The left hand well is reserved for a sticker which will show the renewal month when year-round registration begins.

DMV had planned to start year-round registration right away, and instructions were printed with that in mind. Computer difficulties have postponed the start of year-round renewal for one year.

"But everybody should get into the habit of showing the year in the right hand license plate indentation every year, from now on," Cozens said.

Some motorcycle and truck stickers are placed differently.

More Interest In Beekeeping

Rising prices of honey and increased interest in natural foods have given rise to the number of beekeepers in the county, reports Charles Morse, Apiary Inspector of the County Department of Agriculture, Weights and Measures.

Morse advises that many of the new beekeepers, most of whom have only one or two colonies for home use, are unfamiliar with proper methods of handling bees, and with the many state, county and city laws and ordinances covering beekeeping. Violations are misdemeanors.

IRS TAX ANSWERS?

F. S. Schwindt, DISTRICT DIRECTOR, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. The company I work for paid me full salary when I was absent from my job due to illness. Can I claim sick pay exclusion when I file my Federal return next year?

A. In this particular situation you may claim it if you were absent for a period exceeding 30 calendar days. The percentage of the regular pay you receive as sick pay, plus the length of absence, determine whether or not you can claim this exclusion.

Publication 522, "Adjustments to Income for Sick Pay," fully explains the guidelines to be used in establishing eligibility for sick pay exclusion and reporting it on your Federal income tax return. The publication is available free from IRS offices.

Q. My brother and I have been buying U.S. Savings Bonds with both of us named as co-owners. Now we want to have the bonds re-issued in his name alone. What has to be reported for income tax purposes?

A. If an individual buys Series E Bonds jointly with a co-owner to whom he later transfers his share of the bonds, the co-owner who transfers his share must report, in the year of the transfer, the accrued interest not previously reported, in proportion to his contribution to the purchase price. Publication 576, "Tax Information on U.S. Savings Bonds" explains all the various tax reporting requirements with respect to U. S. Savings Bonds, and is available at your local IRS office.

Q. When must a taxpayer file a gift tax return?

A. A gift tax return must be filed by a donor if he makes gifts of more than $3,000 to any donee during the calendar year. The gift tax return must be filed on or before the 15th day of the second month following the close of the calendar quarter in which the combined amounts of the gift exceed $3,000, unless an extension of time for filing has been granted.

Publication 448, "A Guide to Federal Estates and Gift Taxation," may be purchased for 50 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Q. I earn tips from both of the jobs I am currently holding. Should I report them to my employers?

A. You must give your employer a written report of your tips by the 10th day after the end of each month in which you received cash tips of $20 or more while working for him. In reporting tips to each employer do not combine tips from both jobs. However, you must report all tips as income when you file your Federal tax return.

Imperial's Income Near $19 Million

Imperial Corp. of America, with a branch in Lemon Grove, announced that consolidated net earnings for the nine months ended Sept. 30 were $1.29 per share, compared to $1.35 for the corresponding period of 1973. Per-share results are based on 14,657,225 and 14,747,700 average common shares outstanding in the respective 1974 and 1973 periods.

Consolidated net earnings, after taxes, were $18.9 million in the first nine months of this year, versus $20.0 million in the like period of 1973.

Gross revenues in 1974's first nine months were $170.3 million, an increase of 13 percent over the $151.1 million recorded in the first nine months of last year.

In the third quarter of 1974, consolidated net earnings were $6.8 million or 46 cents per share, compared with $7.4 million or 50 cents per share in the third quarter of last year.

Gross revenues in the 1974 period were $58.9 million, an increase of 13 percent over the $52.1 million reported in the third quarter of 1973.

Clottu Warns of Apprentice Shortage

Economic trends throughout the U. S. and in California, particularly declining construction employment, are having an adverse impact on apprentice openings here, according to a recent State report.

In issuing the report, Robert W. Clottu, Acting State Chief of Apprentice Standards, said that if the downturn in apprentice opportunities continues, employers will face a shortage of skilled workers when production begins to expand.

Clottu urges employers to continue training apprentices to meet long time needs for skilled workers.

The report, from the Division of Apprenticeship Standards, State Department of Industrial Relations, says that the number of apprentices enrolled in California declined 14.6 percent in the 12 months ended September 30, compared with the same 12-month period a year earlier.

More than 3 million people belong to the Mormon churches.

Electrical Workers Get 6% Pay Hike

San Diego Gas & Electric Company and Local 465, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, recently announced completion of negotiations for a wage increase.

The agreement provides for a 6 percent across the board increse effective December 1, and another 6 percent increase effective March 1.

The agreement also provides that if the Consumer Price Index increases more than 6 percent between January and July 1975, wages will be adjusted as of September 1, 1975, at a rate of ½ per cent for each ½ percent increase in the Consumer Price index up to a maximum of 3 percent.

Last week, Mary Ward, 2615 Nina rd., Lemon Grove, correctly identified Vaughn Lerwill, Jeweler, who was pictured at work in his shop in the lobby of Mayfair Market, 7663 Broadway. Consumer Index Helps Cut Household Costs

"Everybody is talking about ways to fight inflation. I know I am supposed to save energy. But surely there are other ways to help and to save me money. Where do I go?"

The Winter Edition of the "Consumer Information Index" is a good place to start. Just released by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Index lists almost 250 selected Federal publications of consumer interest. Many of these publications will help you save money and reduce inflation. Copies of the Index are available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

How can you save money?

Do you have a budget? "Budgeting for the Family" (25 cents) will help you set up a budget which matches your income to your needs.

"Your Money's Worth in Foods" (50 cents) gives suggestions for food budgeting, menu planning and shopping for the best values. And perhaps now is a good time to go on that diet. "Calories and Weight" ($1) discusses plans for weight reduction diets and gives the calories per portion of 536 common foods.

There are many ways to save energy, either through cutting the use of energy consuming products or through buying products that use less. The "Miles Per Gallon Ratings for 1975 Cars" (free) will help you choose the car with the best gas mileage within a weight category. And "Tips for the Motorist" (free) will help you to drive more economically. You can also look for the "Energy Efficiency in Room Air Conditioners" (free) to determine your best buy. And for the whole house, "Tips for Engery Savers" (free) can bring about that five percent reduction in energy usage with the least discomfort for you and your family.

Speaking of the house, there are a number of things you can do to keep it up without having to bring in an outside expert. "Tools and Their Uses" ($1.95) discusses the selection, safe use and care of most tools used in the home. "Finding and Keeping a Healthy House" (60 cents) tells how to identify and protect your home from water damage wood decay, and destructive insects such as termites, beetles, and carpenter ants. And for those who just want to do the basics, "Simple Home Repairs" (25 cents) is a guide to repairing and replacing faucets, electric plugs, screens, tiles, etc.

There is much more in the Winter 1974-75 "Consumer Information Index." For your free copy, write Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009 or visit one of the Federal Information Centers located in cities throughout the country.

State Graduate Fellowships Open

The California State Scholarship and Loan Commission recently announced the opening of competition for the 1975-76 State Graduate Fellowship Program which offers 800 fellowships to any accredited California graduate or professional school. The Commission will choose the recipients on the basis of their achievements and their potential for success regardless of background and will take into consideration the manpower needs of the state.

Fellowships are available to students who will enter their first or second year of graduate or professional school beginning September 1, 1975.

Applications, which must be filed by January 15, 1975, may be secured from state colleges and universities or directly from the Commission, 1410 Fifth st., Sacramento 95814. Recipients will be announced in June.

All applicants are required to submit test scores from either the Graduate Record Exam, the Law School Admission Test, the Dental Admissions Test, the Medical School Admission Test, or the Admission Test for Graduate Schools of Business depending on the specific academic competition entered; also required is a parental financial statement.

CHP Shifts to Smaller Cars

In a departure from long-standing policy, nearly 10 percent of the cars purchased by the California Highway Patrol next year will be intermediate-size vehicles.

Dodge was low bidder on a contract for 1109 Patrol cars, offering to furnish 1009 122-inch wheelbase Monacos at $4,677.50 per car and 100 118-inch wheelbase Coronets at $4,325.45 apiece. Pontiac and Mercury also submitted bids.

Delivery of new cars to the CHP's motor transport section begins February 3, but field use will be delayed to June awaiting completion of 1974 model assignments.

Assistant Commissioner A. S. Cooper said the Patrol will operate most of the intermediate-size cars in urban areas "on an experimental basis. Manufacturers generally indicate a shift away from 122-inch wheelbase cars during the next three years, and we need the experience in equipping and operating the smaller vehicle."

The 1975 models will be equipped with tilt and telescopic steering wheels, as well as catalytic mufflers. Vehicles headed for hotter climates will have tinted glass.

The Patrol installs approximately $1500 in equipment such as radio, siren, spotlights and push bumper, but most of the items represent little out-of-pocket cost since they have been removed from Patrol vehicles coming out of service, Cooper said.

Motorists Get Chance To Do-It-Yourself

Do-it-yourselfers get an assist from the California Vehicle Code starting January 1, Highway Patrol Commissioner Dan Lanza said.

A code amendment effective that date permits passenger vehicle owners to readjust their engines to correct exhaust emission violations without going through an official smog control station. Previously when Patrol roadside inspection teams detected an emissions violation, the vehicle owner was required to visit an official station for clearance.

"The operator still can take the vehicle to an official station if he or she desires," Lanza said, "but now owners can make repairs themselves or take the car to any mechanic of their choice. Then they bring it back to a Patrol inspection lane for one recheck. If the vehicle passes, the Patrol will issue a sticker of compliance. If it fails, the owner then must take it to an official station."

Lanza said that only exhaust violations may be corrected by owners. Other smog device violations still must be cleared through official licensed stations.

"The Patrol doesn't expect a flurry of owner repairs, but our experience indicates the exception will be useful to some owners, particularly fleet operators," Lanza said.

Lynch Favors Tax Installment Plan

Legislation granting homeowners the opportunity to pay property taxes in more than two installments annually was urged recently by Board of Equilzation Member John W. Lynch.

Property taxes on most real property in the state are now payable in two equal installments on December 10 and April 10.

"About one-third of the taxpayers include their property tax payments in their monthly payments to lending institutions," Lynch pointed out, "but the other two-thirds need an opportunity to spread their property tax payments more evenly over the year."

Lynch said that the convenience this legislation would afford property owners far outweighs the additional costs involved.

Civil Service Jobs Scarce for Summer

The U. S. Civil Service Commission reports that the summer employment situation for next year is very limited.

The Commission suggests that applicants interested in Federal Government jobs during the summer not rely solely on these prospects and that applicants not be too restrictive as to location preferences.

All applicants must take the Summer Employment Examination to qualify for any of the available jobs. Applications should be submitted early in order to receive full consideration.

Information concerning the types of positions and application procedures can be obtained at the San Diego Civil Service Office, 110 West C st., Suite 2100, San Diego 92101.

5787 Traffic Citations Go To Juveniles

The San Diego County Juvenile Traffic Court received 5787 citations during the months of September and October. This total is down from the preceding two months, but probably only reflects the decrease in driving being done by juveniles as a result of their return to school, according to Robert R. Armstrong, Supervisor of the Juvenile Traffic Court.

263 juveniles who reside in other California counties were cited locally for violations.

Among the violations heard during the two months were 10,244 for speeding, 34 for reckless driving, 54 for speed exhibition and 17 for hit-run. Also, 888 juveniles had been cited for operating a motor vehicles without a license.

Dispositions during the two months included 51 license suspensions, 50 assignments to Driver Improvement School and 883 assessments of fines amounting to $16,746.

Sea World Pennies To Aid Ailing Mexicans

It was "pennies from heaven" last week for Flying Samaritans, when Sea World donated the coins tossed into the park's ponds to the medical volunteers.

The pennies were specially delivered by Gary Thompson, Sea World's hang glider pilot to Flying Samaritans Creighton (Red) Birdsell and Katie McCann. McCann is Sea World's head nurse and a Flying Samaritan since 1966.

Birdsell is in charge of gathering medical supplies for the Flying Samaritans, which is comprised of volunteer doctors, nurses, medical technicians, pilots and other volunteers who fly each month to Mexico to treat patients in remote villages. He has been part of the group since 1961.

Eight to 12 planes are used monthly for the medical missions, with 30 to 50 Flying Samaritans aboard.

Another 40 drive to a clinic located 150 miles below the border.

Each Flying Samaritan pays his own way to fly or drive to the Mexican clinics, and none receive any reimbursement for their work.

Sea World donated its "pennies from ponds" to the Flying Samaritans to be used to purchase vitamins, antibotics, bandages, vaccines and baby foods.

State Income Higher

SACRAMENTO — Cash revenue receipts of the State General Fund for the first quarter of 1974-75 Fiscal Year were $91 million greater than budget estimates, while cash expenditures for the same period were $147.8 million less than had been estimated, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported.

"While these are substantial sums, it must be emphasized that the receipts figure is only 5 percent over the estimates, and the expenditures are only 6.9 percent below," Flournoy said. "This early in the budget year such differences are caused easily by variations in the timing of receipts and disbursements."

Receipts through September 30 totaled $1,942,661,660 and were $356,354,583 or 22.46 percent greater than in the first three months of 1973-74. Disbursements totaling $1,987,059,590 were $225,414,508 ahead of last year, a gain of 12.80 percent. Disbursements were $44,397,930 greater than receipts.

Bad habits kill good people.

Too many pills. Too many drugs. Too many drinks. When they don't kill, they maim. The nervous system. The body chemistry. The emotions. And the mind.

The only way to make things better is to start getting sensible about ourselves. If you're taking prescription drugs, follow the prescription. If you're having trouble, see your doctor. If you drink, do it in moderation. And remember, even over-the-counter drugs can be addictive.

Kelly Bows Out of Pageant; Is 20 Hr., 20 Min. Too Old

By John Kowalczyk

Rachel Jo (Kelly) Stubbs is having what she calls "one of those years."

The Mt. Miguel High School senior's pretty face brightened this newspaper's front page two weeks ago when it was announced that she would be the San Diego representative in the Miss Teenage America national finals in Little Rock, Arkansas, November 30.

The dream ended for Kelly last week when she was informed by Pageant officials that she was disqualified.

It was discovered at the national headquarters in Dallas that Kelly was born one day too soon to qualify for the pageant.

According to pageant rules, no contestant can be 18 years old on or before December 31, 1974. Kelly was born at 3:40 a.m., December 31. She will be 18 this New Year's Eve, 20 hours and 2 minutes too early to qualify for the contest.

Other unfortunate consequences have contributed to Kelly's bad year. In March, while practicing for the state Class One Gymnastic Championships, she tore cartilage in her knee which required surgery and thus eliminated her from competition.

Two weeks ago, she reportedly lost the Mt. Miguel Homecoming Queen title by two votes.

She was replaced in the Teenage America pageant by San Diego first-runner-up, Harriet Schechter. Kelly expressed her happiness for her replacement and seemed undaunted by the major disappointment. She was to have left for Little Rock this week.

Kelly is a senior at Mt. Miguel who practices and teaches classes in gymnastics at the downtown YMCA.

to them. For example, in El Cajon the Crisis House quickly obtained a battery for a man's car so he could get to a job he had just started. He got the battery. He held his job.

Anderson said Lemon Grove's crisis intervention center plans to offer counseling and legal services as well as furnishing food, clothing, furniture and whatever else is needed to keep family units together and individuals as functioning units.

Simulated Prison is College Grove Topic

A Stanford University experiment, simulating prison conditions using carefully screened students as both prison keepers and prisoners, had to be terminated prematurely when institutionalization became too "acute" after six days.

As part of a continuing series exploring the reality and myths of criminal justice, research associate Roney Nunes discusses the ill-fated experiment following a 50-minute slide presentation in the College Grove Shopping Center Community Hall.

The discussion of Stanford Professor Phillip Zimbardo's experiment will be conducted twice on Tuesday at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. and is presented by Grossmont College and the La Mesa Library.

The public is invited to the free talk.

Landscaping Tips

A meeting, slated for Friday, December 6, at 1:30 p.m., is designed to acquaint landscape horticulturists with pesticides, educational publications available for landscape horticulturists, and preventive landscape maintenance.

The meeting, open to the public, is held at the Farm Advisor's Office, Building 4, 5555 Overland ave., San Diego.

The event is sponsored by the Cooperative Agricultural Extension of U.C.S.D.

The state penal code protects alligators, whales, cobras, pythons, and kangaroos. Miller said the Lemon Grove store has also been selling boots made of alligator skins.

A civil suit for damages will be filed against the company and an injunction sought to order sales of articles of skins of endangered species to cease, according to the D.A.

Health Dept. to Seek Feedback on Medi-Cal Project

A public hearing will be conducted by the state Department of Health Tuesday to consider applications by the Kaiser Foundation Prepaid Health Plan for renewal of its contracts to serve patients under Medi-Cal, the state-federal health care program for California's low income population.

The hearing, one of three to be held in the state is at 1350 Front st., Room B-109, San Diego at 10 a.m.

Deputy Health Director Jerry Green said that the purpose of the hearing is to obtain the opinions of all interested parties before the state Department of Health decides whether to renew the contract with Kaiser.

Testimony does not require prior arrangements and may be presented orally or in writing.

Immunity Lags, Outbreaks Loom

Low immunization levels among the state's young people are becoming a healthy threat despite state school laws requiring immunization proof.

"Two separate outbreaks of measles — possibly mixed with rubella — have occurred in California during recent weeks," said Dr. James Chin, chief of the State Health Department's infectious disease section.

Chin said that 54 cases have been reported in Redding and a possible similar outbreak is being investigated in Eureka.

California schools have required proof of immunization against childhood diseases — polio, measles, rubella, diphtheria, and whooping cough — since 1968.

New Building Code Fights Noise Pollution

Listening to your neighbors fight in the apartment across the hall or hearing voices echoing through hotel corridors are going to become a part of the past.

The San Diego County Building Inspection Department says new state regulation noise insulation standards will keep the roar of outside noises, outside.

The regulations establish uniform minimum standards for wall, ceiling and floor assemblies in new dwellings. Citizens complaining about flimsy construction of hotels and apartments that allow noise generated from outside or adjacent rooms to disturb building occupants prompted action for the new building standards.

The new standards will affect structures where applications for building permits were filed after Aug. 22, 1974. Submitted building plans that do not comply with the new state building regulations will be denied building permits.

Your Health Tips

Slipped Disc

Nearly everyone is familiar with the expression "slipped disc." Actually, the term is inaccurate because the disc does not slip, but ruptures—resulting in severe pain.

To fully understand the circumstances of a ruptured disc, one must understand the role of the disc as part of the spine.

The spine is made up of hard, bony vertebrae which support the trunk on the pelvis. In between each vertebra is a soft, spongy disc that allows the spine to bend and curve with the position of the body. Actually, it serves as a shock absorber to jarring, pressure, or sudden changes of movement — much in the manner of the shock absorbers in your automobile.

Ruptured discs most commonly occur in the lower back (lumbar) region because, with the entire weight of the upper body resting on the framework forming the lumbar area, this region is subject to considerable stress and strain.

The disc itself is composed of a strong, fibrous ring of tissue (something like a small inner-tube) filled with a softer spongy material. When a condition occurs producing sufficient strain, the "inner-tube" tears, allowing the softer material to ooze out into the spinal canal. Thus, the term "slipped disc" takes its name from this oozing out process.

Ruptured discs may result in severe pain in the back and leg when, in the process of oozing out, the disc material presses on a nerve root.

Although the ruptured disc is sometimes found in young adults, it occurs more often in persons over age 25. Why? As we grow older the sturdy and elastic tissue that gives the disc the necessary support to sustain the vertebrae and body weight loses some of its fluid content.

The result? The tissue of the disc thereby loses some of its elasticity and begins to degenerate and fray, resulting in a weakening of the normal supporting mechanism.

Under normal circumstances a person could go through his entire life without experiencing symptoms of this aging process because the disc may still function normally even though it has less support and elasticity. It is when the degenerative process becomes more marked that a person is apt to incur a ruptured disc. A violent injury is not necessary to produce the condition because it can stem from the simple act of sneezing.

The intense pain accompanying a ruptured disc may become so severe that the physician recommends surgery. However, all cases of ruptured discs require medical management before a decision is reached as to the type of treatment to be followed.

Brown's Effort Pays Off

Low Cost Loans For Gas Vapor Devices

Service station operators in San Diego County will be able to obtain low interest loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration for installation of gasoline vapor recovery systems, County Supervisor Brown announced. The SBA decision came from Brown's application earlier this year in behalf of service station operators who were not able to obtain necessary financing.

"After being twice rejected for standard commercial loans by private banks, service station operators may qualify for the 6½% SBA loan," Brown said. "Applicants will only be required to obtain a letter from the San Diego County Air Pollution Control District indicating that their plan for compliance with vapor recovery regulations has been reviewed and the equipment to be installed is capable of meeting those regulatioins."

He said the Air Pollution Control District told him that such an opinion consititutes no problem.

Who To Call

Interested service station operators should immediately contact the San Diego Small Business Administration office for details, Brown said.

"It is gratifying that another federal agency has recognized the plight of the small San Diego businessman," Brown said. "While gasoline vapor recovery will very substantially improve our air quality, these systems are also required by the 1972 Federal Clean Air Act. Therefore, it is appropriate that the federal government work cooperatively with San Diego businessmen to implement their requirements."

Federal Energy Administration's recent granting of a half-cent a gallon increase in gasoline prices coupled with SBA's loan aid for gasoline vapor systems should ease the problem many service station operators are facing, Brown said.

State Wages Crackdown on Employers

The state Labor Commission reports that an average of 6,000 employers a month are under investigation for violation of the mandatory workers compensation insurance law.

About 3,000 state employers have bought the mandatory insurance since the State began its crackdown six months ago.

Most employers discovered in violation of the law were unaware that the laws apply to them and their employees.

"They were confused about the application of the laws, particularly in cases of partnerships, independent contractors, corporate officers, and the employment of relatives and part-time help," said Robert E. Howard, State Labor Commissioner.

Drug Abuse Spotlighted On Local TV

The second half of a two-part television program written by Grossmont College English instructor, George Kirazian, will be broadcast at 2 p.m., Sunday, on KCST-TV, Channel 39. Sponsored by the San Diego County Health Department, the program was written by Kirazian after a year of research on the San Diego County drug scene.

The first half-hour segment titled "Why Kids Do Drugs", televised last Sunday, focused on the reasons that tenagers experiment with drugs. The concluding segment, "The Drug Dilemma," will investigate the attitudes of parents and other adults toward the youth drug culture.

A running narration by television personality Art Linkletter provides background information for the show. Country singer Johnny Cash appears in each segment and discusses his experiences with drugs and drug users. The program, filmed entirely on location in San Diego County, features actual interviews with both youngsters and their parents that are involved in some way with drugs.
